Tachevah Wash Cost Estimates Vary Widely

Estimates of the cost of rights-of-way to complete a Tachevah Wash flood control program have varied from $200,000 to $1,000,000, in the last 10 years, Willard Hillery said today.

Hillery, chairman of the three-man board of County Flood Control District, Zone Six, said in reply to an Indian stipulation that Section 14 be protected from Tachevah Wash flood waters, that the program has been on the docket for 10 years, but that the primary holdup is acquisition of rights-of-way.

Some are owned by the Indians, and some by whites, he said, and the sale of the land to whites may have slowed progress on the program.

He said a flood control plan, now under consideration by John Bryant, director of the county flood control district, zone six, and the federal government, must be complete.

He said three plans are under consideration:

Construction of a catch basin to allow control of flash-flood waters and a later gradual runoff over natural routes, including section 14.

Construction of a cement channel that would take flood waters surging through section 14 to the present Baristo channel and into the Whitewater River, or down Alejo Road across section 12 to the Whitewater.

A combination of the two.

The flood control district and zone six are waiting for the results of a federal survey known as the Whitewater Study, which would suggest an over-all flood control plan.

Hillery said in the 10 years zone six has been operating, they have completed two flood control projects protecting Palm Springs and section 14, i.e., Baristo and Palm Canyon.

DRY CAMP BLACKIE

"A city feller pulled in to a gas station on the desert looking for the room marked 'Gents.' He saw a crude lock hanging on the outside of the door and assumed the door was locked. He asked the gas feller for the key. The sleepy desert rat opened one eye and yawned: 'That door ain't locked buddy. That lock's jes' a-hangin' there.'"

Ain't that 'jest like life sez Dry Camp Blackie. A guy goes around looking at the doors thinkin' they're locked . . . when they ain't locked at all. The lock's jes' a-hangin' there."

"A pessimist is a man who thinks the world is against him. And he is probably right."

3 Alleged Betting Spots in Village Hit; 5 Warrants Out

FRANK PORTNOY, owner of the Cork and Bottle, was taken into custody late this afternoon and subjected to questioning.

Two Palm Springs liquor stores had been closed, warrants were out for at least five persons and two were under arrest late today as county authorities and local police began what appeared a county-wide crackdown on bookmaking establishments.

Riverside County Sheriff Joe Rice said raids were made simultaneously by separate squads on alleged horse-betting establishments in Indio, Hemet, Elsinore, Cathedral City. He said this Saturday was chosen to catch the boom business expected from "Getaway Day" at Santa Anita.

Already raided and temporarily closed in Palm Springs were the Cork and Bottle, 342 North Palm Canyon Drive, and Mills Liquor Store, 216 North Palm Canyon Drive. The former was raided by Sheriff's Deputies Capt. Jack Coverley, Sgt. Bob Pressler, Charles Dinwiddie, David Gorman and Lieut. James Bird, and Sgt. Bill Lux of the Palm Springs police department.

Joe Portnoy, sole occupant of the Cork and Bottle at the time of the raid was taken into custody.

The Mills establishment was raided by Capt. Sam Hoffman, several deputies and Palm Springs Officer Bob Davis. Taken into custody there was Zella Gertrude Hensley, 45, of 255 N. Calle Santa Rosa. She will be charged suspected of bookmaking. Capt. Hoffman said.

In a raid on an apartment in Sunset Towers, Joy Sachs was arrested, also charged with bookmaking. Her bail was set at $5000.

Other warrants were out for George Zouganilis, owner of the Athens Hotel here, whose home in Cathedral City was raided and who is part owner of a gambling establishment at Lake Tahoe.

Frank Portnoy, owner of the Cork and Bottle, and Mrs. Nona B. Mills, owner of Mills Liquor Store.

Chief Kettman and Sheriff Rice said the crackdown followed a long period of cooperative investigation and surveillance by several undercover agents. During at least one visit to place bets, two agents wore tiny microphones and recording devices under their shirts.

Among the questions asked was "why should we have it if our standards are already so high."

Another questioning restaurant said that utilization of such systems in Riverside and other cities in the county, which are basically not of the resort aura, does not mean that they would be good here. In fact, concluded C. C. Smits, owner of Little Lindy's, it would be very bad for the Village.

Dewey Metzendorf told the group that he felt that attacking the problem of the cleanliness of the dishes and equipment was secondary to the necessity of the food-handling inspection. He said all restaurant workers should be required to have county-issued health cards.

CITY MANAGER Pete Peterson told Metzendorf that feasibility of such a practice was under investigation by the city. Peterson said they have long realized the problem of health of food-handling personnel.

Boyd seconded Peterson's expression by saying that the discussion had been instigated to get the feeling of the members of the coordinating council and the groups they represent, but that the good of Palm Springs is of paramount interest.

Bill Foldes, manager of the Coral Tree restaurant, said that present laws are adequate.

The meeting adjourned as usual at 2 p. m. after Peterson iterated his opening remark that Irons wasn't trying to sell the plan to Palm Springs, but acting on a city council invitation to present the proposal.

Cafes Oppose Grading Plan at Council Session

A proposal by city council to pass an ordinance initiating a restaurant grading system here met strong verbal opposition while still in the embryo stage yesterday at Mayor Florian Boyd's Coordinating Council luncheon at Oasis Hotel.

After L. E. Irons, of the Riverside County Health Department, told the group, which included many hotel, cabaret and restaurant owners, of the mechanics of the plan if passed by city council, a deluge of questions were fired at him.

Many of the quizzing operators who would be affected answered their own questions, and indicated their distaste for the plan.

IRONS SAID that when the plan, which would eventually include the posting of A, B and C rating cards for public display, was initiated in Riverside, the number of A, or top rate establishments, increased from 15 to 89 per cent.

He said that at present, restaurants in Palm Springs would have about 90 per cent A ratings.

Among the questions asked was "why should we have it if our standards are already so high."

Another questioning restaurant said that utilization of such systems in Riverside and other cities in the county, which are basically not of the resort aura, does not mean that they would be good here. In fact, concluded C. C. Smits, owner of Little Lindy's, it would be very bad for the Village.

Quarles raised the question, long an unspoken one in military and political circles, in a major speech prepared for delivery at the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base.

The Air Secretary asserted that this country's deterrent pressure "must be positive and unequivocal." He said aggressors "must expect us" to counter either local or global aggression with "our best and most modern weapons"—obviously meaning nuclear weapons.

"In this situation there is a psychological point that needs further study," he said. "It has to do with the attitude of our friends and allies in the free world."

"The essential question here is whether their willingness to stand firm with us would be enhanced or impaired by the expectation that, if our forces became engaged, our best weapons would also become engaged."

Quarles raised the question in calling for a "detailed study" at the Air University's advanced schools on what he called the new science of deterring war. He said so far deterrent power has grown without a "real opportunity to theorize about it."

Quarles said a "deterrent position" has peace as its object, rules out preventive war but will not permit retreat or appeasement in preserving "our way of life."

'Factory' for Abortions is Uncovered

$150,000 Detroit Racket Catered To Film Actresses

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit doctor and his beautiful wife were accused Friday of operating a "mass production" abortion racket which numbered Hollywood actresses among its patients.

Police said Dr. Raymond W. Maurer, 36, performed two to three illegal operations daily in a modernistic clinic outfitted with the latest scientific equipment.

Fees ranged from $200 to $900 and depended on the patient's financial status, Assistant Prosecutor Albert A. Goldfarb said. He said movie actresses were charged between $1000 and $1500 per call, according to the stage of pregnancy and their rating in the film colony.

Authorities said the doctor made as much as $17,500 in one week and had an annual income between $150,000 and $200,000.

Maurer operated in a 21-bed clinic originally built to accommodate five doctors and was assisted by his blonde wife, Florence, 45, police said. Detectives said each patient was required to sign a waiver releasing the clinic and Dr. Maurer of any liability for the operations.

Neatly printed cards containing post-operative instructions were found in a desk drawer by detectives who arrested the Maurers following a two-month investigation. Both recently served prison terms for income tax evasion.

The doctor and his wife denied any knowledge of illegal operations and examination was set for March 16. They were released on bonds of $20,000 each.

Lt. Albert G. Isaac said sworn statements were obtained by police from several former patients attesting to the illicit operations.

Woman Pays $1.50 to Prowl Arkansas Diamond Mine, Finds $15,000 One

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A vivacious Dallas matron who picked up a $15,000 diamond at an abandoned mine in Arkansas said today that the find might open the way for U.S. competition against "the tightest monopoly in the world."

Mrs. Arthur Lee Parker, 40, found the stone Sunday near Murfreesboro, Ark. Like many other tourists have done, she paid $1.50 for the privilege of poking around the 72-acre site, called the "Crater of Diamonds."

Yesterday a Dallas expert, Harold Stone, confirmed that the stone really was a diamond. He told Mrs. Parker that $15,000 would be "a very conservative estimate" of the stone's value if it were cut in the "Marquise" shape, a pointed oval form.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus named the stone the "Star of Arkansas." He called it "bigger than anything in Texas."

Mrs. Parker said the diamond "has sat there for 50 years since the mine was abandoned, even though we need diamonds so desperately."

She said diamond production everywhere except at the Arkansas site "is controlled by the tightest monopoly in the world today."

Diamonds are not produced anywhere else in North America.

Mrs. Parker and her husband prospect for rare stones as a hobby. She said that in the past they have found smaller diamonds at the Arkansas site, operated by white supremacy.

CALL HER LAWYER, a Long Beach attorney named Madden, is made by Joy Sachs, first suspect to be booked here during sheriff's roundup of bookmakers. Deputy Lawrence Brooks said scratch sheets were in her Sunset Towers apartment, indicating she ran business from there. Her bail was set at $5,000, which she must raise, or stay in jail until arraignment.

Couple Accused in $75,000 Fraud Flees to Mexico

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit police today said a couple accused of embezzling $75,000 from a state auto license office fled to Mexico with their nine-year-old daughter.

Detectives said Mrs. Ann Thorpe, 42, who operated the office in suburban St. Clair Shores, fled to Canada with her husband, Floyd, 37, and daughter, Kay, and then boarded a plane for Mexico City.

The Thorpes disappeared last weekend after deeding a house they owned to a relative. An audit of Mrs. Thorpe's accounts disclosed a shortage of nearly $75,000 in auto license fees collected during the rush period at the office last week.

The variance board unanimously passed a motion to approve the sign as the fictitious name of a northend hotel owned by J. D. Carlin if he would change the five and the zero so that all three digits were of similar size.

THE SIGN CAME under attack from city attorney Jerry Bunker who said that having the last two numerals smaller than the first was obviously an attempt to bypass the rate-sign ordinance.

The present ordinance is an amended version of one which had been termed unconstitutional by Superior Court.

The owner, his wife, and the attorney representing them were present at the hearing yesterday.

Their counsel, Enos Reid, asked that the variance board write city council with their ruling. He said his clients wished to cooperate with the city.

The feeling of the board was that if the numerals were all of the same size, they would constitute a name, and not a rate.

IN OTHER ACTION, the variance board reaffirmed their previous recommendation that the sign "Market" on the grocery store formerly owned and operated by William McKinney, at 665 South Palm Canyon Drive, was in violation of the sign ordinance.

They had said the sign is too large.

The five-man board denied variance to a request by the Lutheran Church to erect a sign, six by four feet, on their newly purchased vacant lot. The sign would have been notification during construction that the lot would eventually be the site of a church.

Existing regulations allow a two square foot sign on vacant property.

Mobs Battle in Greece; Cyprus, Crete

Israeli Report Jordan Attempt At Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alarmed U.S. officials called today for urgent United Nations action to halt the deterioration of peace in the Middle East and North Africa.

Officials were gravely concerned at the outlook for the future in the entire region.

Comments ranged from "things are going uncontrolled all over the place" to assertions that "all hell's going to break loose."

ATHENS, GREECE (AP)—Infuriated mobs in both Greece and Cyprus battled police and troops today in demonstrations protesting Britain's exiling of Cyprus Nationalist leader Archbishop Makarios.

In Athens and Salonika, street fighting injured at least 60 persons.

Thousands of Greek demonstrators at Salonika knocked out four armored cars rushed in by the Army to resist them. Steel-helmeted soldiers set up machine guns to protect the U.S. embassy in Athens.

In Cyprus, a spontaneous general strike paralyzed the entire island. British troops attacked with tear gas to repel stone-throwing mobs in Limassol and Kyrenia while red-bellied commandos and paratroopers deployed through the ominously silent capital of Nicosia.

By midday, the disorders had spread to the Mediterranean island of Crete. In Heraklion, a mob estimated at 10,000 men, invaded the British consulate and smashed everything in sight.

Greece recalled its ambassador to Britain in protest against the deportation of Makarios and three other Orthodox churchmen from Cyprus yesterday.

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli police patrol drove off a band of Jordanian infiltrators Friday night in a brief firefight in which two persons were killed, an Israeli army spokesman announced today.

The incident was one of a series in which Israelis have fought along the border with Syrian, Jordanian or Egyptian troops during the past week while the Arab "big three" met in Cairo to align their political and military policies against Israel in event of war.

PARIS (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet flies to London Sunday to urge united action against Egypt's meddling in the Algerian crisis, which erupted Friday into anti-American and anti-French rioting on two continents.

Mollet will confer with Prime Minister Anthony Eden during a weekend lull in parliamentary action on his demand for "blank check" powers to deal with the murderous anti-French underground in Algeria—a demand virtually certain to be approved in a confidence vote Monday.

Patty Gardenseed to be Speaker at Kiwanis Club Luncheon Tuesday

Aloysius Eugene Francis Patrick Mozier, who is better known as Patty Gardenseed, will be the speaker Tuesday noon at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Saddle and Sirolo.

This man who has distributed nearly 2,000,000 packets of vegetable seed, enough to have grown about $10 million worth of food, started in October 1951.

The Anchorage Victory, an ammunition ship, docked at Pusan, Korea, and second engineer Pat Mozier went ashore on liberty. Riding through the narrow, crowded streets, he saw a little girl stumble and fall. Carrying her to a nearby hospital, he found that she was dead.

The doctors told him that it was caused by starvation.

The soil was rich, but there were no seeds to plant. Others were dying of malnutrition, and its after effects.

Returning to his home in Los Angeles, he drew out his life savings — $1,500 — purchased as many 10-cent seed packets as possible, and took them with him on his next trip to the Orient. He passed them out to hungry people wherever his ship docked.

And he has continued this practice since then, acquiring the name Patty Gardenseed from Rear Admiral Hall Hanlon in Tokyo in 1953. He has also the title of "America's Ambassador of Goodwill."

Community Forum to Present Dr. Emil Lengyel in Talk Sunday

The Community Forum of Palm Springs will present Dr. Emil Lengyel, well-known author and platform personality, in an address entitled "Uncle Sam Leader or Laggard," an analysis of the status of our Foreign Policy, at 8:15 p. m., Sunday, in the auditorium of the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Aliso Road.

In 1921 Dr. Lengyel came to the U. S. as a correspondent to cover the Washington Disarmament Conference and decided to make this country his permanent home. He became an American citizen in 1927. Since then he has covered the European scene as a correspondent for American newspapers, and spends a part of each year overseas.

Dr. Lengyel is assistant professor at New York University and has taught economics and history.

Among Dr. Lengyel's best known books are "America's Role in World Affairs," "Cattle Car Express," "Millions of Dictators," "World Without End; The Middle East."

Born in Budapest and educated in that city at the Royal Hungarian University, which gave him an LL. D. degree, Dr. Lengyel was called to service as an officer in the Austro-Hungarian Army at the outbreak of World War I. He had been in the field six months when he was taken prisoner on the Russian Front and exiled to a Siberian prison. He experiences there turned his hair white and provided him with material for his first book, "Cattle Car Express."

Tickets for Dr. Lengyel's lecture may be obtained at the Center of the office or the door Sunday evening.

High School Highlights

This Column, Compiled by the High School Journalism Class, Was Written Today by Dixie Vogels.

The big issue on the P.S.H.S. campus this week is contests. Any student with a need for some extra cash would profit both in experience and monetarily by entering one of the following contests:

For seniors only, there is an essay contest. Sponsored by the Sixth National Lawrence S. Mayers Peace Essay contest, this essay is to be submitted with 1500 words on three designated subjects.

Anyone for $5000? And just for a simple snapshot, too. This photography contest is sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company and any student from the ninth to the twelfth grades can enter. Black and white film is the only requirement but all snapshots must be submitted by March 31, 1956.

Another essay contest is sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and is to be 350 to 500 words on any of these four subjects: "Moderation is Dangerous Doctrine," "Beverage Alcohol Has Many Defenders But No Defense," "Smoking Costs Too Much," or "Alcoholism — The Number Four Health Problem."

The state prize, is $25, and entries must be postmarked before April 20, 1956 to be eligible.

AGAIN THIS YEAR, the American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring an essay contest for the 10th, 11th, 12th grade students only. Papers on the subject, "The Constitution of the United States," must not exceed 500 words. Final draft is due March 15, 1956. The first state prize is a $1,000 scholarship, and there is a second prize of $250 in cash.

The National Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars is now sponsoring their annual essay contest. This year's topic is, "America-Beacon of Liberty." Essays over 1000 words are automatically disqualified. First prize $1000 and a gold medal, and $250 and a gold medal is the third prize, $100 in cash and a gold medal fourth prize. Ten prizes of $10 each and ten prizes of $5 each are honorable mention awards. Deadline for this contest is March 15, 1956.

The Toastmaster's Speech Contest is coming up in the near future and will present some strong competition to those who enter, outside of the speech class at the high school. Alex Hammond has a list of some of the suggested topics.

Realtors Serve Community

Palm Springs and the surrounding desert resort area (including Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert and Desert Hot Springs) are among the most active real estate markets in California. The first reason for this activity that comes to mind is the rapid growth which the area has been enjoying for many years. Another, not quite so obvious reason, is the number of wide-awake, enterprising and aggressive realtors—and their salesmen—who promote and service the real estate transactions.

The public often gets an erroneous idea that all the real estate men do is open offices and collect commissions on sales of property that would be taking place anyway. This is far from the truth. The handling of real estate transactions is a skilled profession that requires study, training and hard work. Much of our growth and prosperity—regardless of the natural attractions—depends upon the aggressiveness of the real estate operators. Selling homes, income properties and vacant land isn't as easy as a lot of people think; it takes initiative, enthusiasm and patience to handle the average realty transaction. Palm Springs has a lot of real estate dealers who are real go-getters.

One of the ways the realtors have served the community so effectively is through the Real Estate Board. The area benefits in many ways through cooperation among real estate firms, such as the setting of high standards of ethics and keeping up with advancements in the profession through membership in the State and National Real Estate organizations.

Establishment of the Multiple Listing Service by 32 real estate firms in the area has provided a great convenience to people who want to buy or sell property. It saves clients time and adds nothing to the cost.

The aggressiveness of our real estate people is also demonstrated by the amount of advertising which practically all of them do. A glance at The Desert Sun classified pages is evidence of this. It serves as an excellent meeting place for buyers and sellers by giving a wide selection of properties. Many community development experts look to the newspaper classified section as a good index to the character of the community. In this respect Palm Springs rates exceptionally high.

Most recent evidence of the interest in the profession here, and the constant desire for betterment, is the opening next Wednesday of a Real Estate Course to be conducted by four experienced instructors and covering all phases of the real estate profession. It is brought here by the Skadron Business College of San Bernardino, and is designed to be valuable to property owners, builders and managers, as well as those who seek broker or salesman licenses. The classes will be held at the American Legion Hall.

The property owners of this area should appreciate the advantage of having such a wide-awake group of real estate dealers who so effectively serve the needs of this rapidly growing desert resort. They are among our biggest assets.

They Do the Work
(The Ledger, Montrose, California)

Someone should thank those men and women who give of their time, effort and resources on behalf of the many youth organizations.

Did you ever stop to think of the people who spend endless hours working with the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, PTA, YMCA, and countless other organizations? They do this as a "labor of love," they do it voluntarily, and without any idea of financial remuneration. When many other parents are looking for methods of escaping the responsibilities of being parents, these unselfish people are actually seeking additional responsibility, as a public service.

And to those detractors who say that such workers are only there because they have children in the program involved, we can cite the case of one of the most public-spirited men we know, who has no children of his own, and who has carried the burden of one organization single-handed. And then we might ask those detractors why they are not helping in the program as well.

The enthusiastic participation of individuals in these projects is one of the great privileges of living in a free republic. The participation is voluntary, and no one compels anyone else to serve—or to contribute financially. The day when Big Government takes over these activities, and supports them (and controls them) through compulsory taxation, America will have lost one of these great liberties for which our forebears fought.

So, let us do what so many Americans have thought of, and then "put off." To those good people who work endless hours for the youth of America, a sincere and heart-felt, "thanks."

Reaffirms the Faith
(Indio News)

Thermal Union Elementary School, its teachers, students, parents, and citizens can take special pride in the school being awarded the Freedom Foundation's Principal School Award.

All of us in Coachella Valley are pleased that a school in our midst has received this distinguished and coveted award.

The Foundation honors 250 of the nation's schools for various activities. About fifty in each of five categories. The top award of all is the Principal School Award.

To the committee, the faculty, and especially to Principal John Kelley do the congratulations of all of us in Coachella Valley go this week.

The award reaffirms the faith we in Coachella Valley have that our schools offer every student a program designed to teach Americanization ideals and principles and implements them with programs designed to obtain participation and understanding of the American Way.

Congratulations, Thermal!

Better Than 'Cops'
(Post-Dispatch, St. Louis, Mo.)

J. Edgar Hoover voiced a good sentiment when he said "As a career law enforcement officer, I abhor the term 'cop' in reference to members of our profession."

Every profession has its name of dignity and its nickname of derogation. The unworthy lawyer is a shyster or an ambulance chaser, the unworthy physician is a quack or a pill-roller. As the sand-ards of the law enforcement profession are raised—and J. Edgar Hoover has done much to raise them—it will become more and more a matter of course to refer to its members as "officer" or "lieutenant," not only overtly but in the private thought.

Integrity, intelligence, zeal, courage, courtesy—these are the hallmarks of an honorable and admirable profession, worthy of its best name.

Next week we have baseball, Golf, other sports, too. There's much to see in Palm Springs.

Recreation abounds. Except in one place. We haven't the Sport of Kings.

I realize that I have utilized that idea before in the boldface type that starts these pieces but while idly cogitating on words that rhyme, suddenly came up on "Springs" and "Kings."

LAST WEEK a Sunday magazine with millions of readers, carried an article by Bennett Cerf on our own Harry Oliver. There were hundreds of words recalling old gags which have appeared in Oliver's Desert Rat Scrap Book.

One of them was that crack Harry took at the wind which occasionally (you should pardon that word) sweeps the area to the north of the city. At that time, six or seven years ago, Oliver wrote that a large tract of land on Garnet hill was available at a bargain.

"If you act quickly," he added, "a three-room shack goes with it," having in mind the wind.

Four days after Cerf's story the letters began to arrive at Fort Oliver in Thousand Palms, asking details on the "bargain."

"That shack has been gone with the wind for five years," said he, "but those letters taught me to shy away from the word 'bargain'."

THE FOLLOWING will probably interest just old-timers. But on a beautiful new Lincoln the other day I noted the license plate, EMF.

Remember the old EMFs? Used to call "em Every Morning Fix it."

It was the papa to three other models, Everet, Metz and Flanders, names of the three heads of the company.

Seems you just can't get away from the license plate gags. This week my attention has been called to KUR, ANT, GYP and to an old grouch—GRR.

YOU KNOW THESE records they attach to phones? Like the correct time or the name of the show and when it starts, when you call the movies, and so on?

Well, I've been told of a secretary who plans to have a record changer installed on her boss' phone. They'll play, in order: "He hasn't come in yet," "He should be here any minute," "He just called and said he'd be a little late," "He was in but he had to leave right away," "He's gone to lunch," "That's for the morning."

In the afternoon: "He should be here any moment," "He isn't back yet," "He is somewhere in the building," "His hat is here," "I don't think he'll be back today."

KIDS FLYING KITES here do not have the additional hazard their counterparts have around the corner of the mountains. All they have to worry about are the power lines of which they were duly warned the other day by Calcelec.

Up toward the coast on a recent tour, I saw a youthful trio shortly after the start of kite season, vainly trying to dislodge a big one from a TV antenna.

At that, they might get caught in the cable here.

Quotes from the News

WASHINGTON—Rep. James P. Richards (D-SC) on the attitude of the Eisenhower administration towards the House's importance in the conduct of foreign affairs:

"It appears... the executive department is still of the 19th century vintage opinion that in the foreign affairs field the House is an illegitimate member of the family, and a weak-minded illegitimate son at that."

PHILADELPHIA—Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts on desegregation:

"I am a strong believer in moving steadily though slowly."

NEW YORK—Margaret Truman on whether the fact her father was president changed her basic nature:

"I remained mulish, pigheaded, curious, romantic, hero-worshipping, loyal, affectionate, procrastinating, slangy, amiable, high tempered, frank, loquacious, nonstudious. I would also have remained lackadaisical and lazy, but I didn't have time."

NEW YORK—Miss Truman on her mother's warning to her chaperone before the start of a concert tour:

"Whatever you do, don't let her marry an actor."

BELMONT, Mass.—Housewife Mrs. Francis C. Gray Jr., who will be a bridesmaid at Grace Kelly's Manaco wedding, on rooming with the actress when they were drama students in New York:

"She was terribly busy socially and always had lots of men calling but there was never any particular one. No matter what she's done where she's been, she doesn't change a bit."

LONDON—Attorney I. C. Saul at a law school debate on the desirability of Leap Year proposals: "A proposition presupposes an illicit arrangement. A proposal is intended to lead to an arrangement of a rather more permanent nature."

WASHINGTON—Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) on aircraft company and defense contract:

stock market speculation: "Gambling on this country's defense is like war profiteering."

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Samuel Delano Mosby, 20, self-instructed burglar, on his list of things to do for a "perfect crime":

"Wear gloves, leave no fingerprints; case the place to see no watchman around; drop paper with someone else's name to mislead police; be sure and have a flashlight; know what's inside the window to step on."

LONDON—Conservative Party Secretary of War Antony Head lecturing Laborite George Wigg in a House of Commons debate:

"When Mr. Wigg is on the front bench he should be more restrained in making an ass of himself."

HOLLYWOOD—Judge Charles J. Griffin in fining actress Marilyn Monroe $36 for traffic violations:

"I'd rather pay to see you on the screen than have you pay to see me."

WASHINGTON—A close friend of Mamie Eisenhower on the first lady objecting to the President running again:

"She just wouldn't do that. They're a team and she goes along with whatever he decides."

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower to 1,500 widely cheering Republican women in a surprise visit to the Republican Women's National Conference:

"If a political party does not have its foundation in the determination to advance the cause that is right, that is moral, then it is not a party but merely a conspiracy... to seize power."

BOSTON—Dr. Paul Dudley White, famed heart specialist, on the risk President Eisenhower will take in running for re-election:

"From my own experience and that of many other cardiologists, the risk that the President has consented to take is a reasonable one."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Two Woodenheads Expected

HOLLYWOOD—Interviewing Bing Crosby on the set of his telefilm, "High Tor," we got on the subject of the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier wedding—(I suppose it's inevitable) said Bing, who's co-starring with Grace in "High Society," "Wouldn't the story of Grace and the Prince make a wonderful movie? You know—The Bricklayer's Daughter, the Prince, Friar Tuck and the theme about saving the principality?" I agreed and asked, "Why don't you make it, Bing?" He replied, "Hey, maybe I will!"

... Edgar Bergen and his trio of stooges on "Do You Trust Your Wife?"—Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and Effie Clinker—are "expecting." Two new woodenheads will join the "family" soon. Details as to sex, weight, I.Q., etc., will be announced after their arrival.

Julie London, Jack Webb's ex, hasn't a thing to cry about career-wise (neither has Lillian "I'll Cry Tomorrow" Roth) since she made one record, "Cry Me a River," and stirred up a big time storm of approval with it. Now Julie is up for the title role in "The Helen Morgan Story" at Warners and for the role of Jose Ferrer's leading lady in "The Great Man" at U-I.

Jerry Lewis turned thumbs down when the TV Academy of Arts and Sciences asked him to emcee its awards dinner March 17 but when Mount Sinai Hospital of Los Angeles requested him to do a benefit he was Jerry-on-the-spot and pulled in $200,000 for its clinic.

... Apropos the Television Academy's current headaches with beaming actors, one wag suggests the perfect solution —give each actor his own category and make them all blissfully happy!

My lifelong impression that Apache dancers and Paris belong together like ham and eggs was shattered when Bob Hope told me he had to import a trio from Spain to do the Apache honors on his last show from London.

Gary Crosby and Louis Armstrong will team again this month for an Australian show.

Dinah Shore took the whole week off. Which means that last week she had to work like twins—including two TV shows, a photograph session, acceptance of her Golden Globe Award from the Hollywood Foreign Pressmen, sit on the dais at a Masquerade testimonial dinner, and do an RCA-Victor recording session that started at midnight Thursday and finished at 5 a.m. Friday.

Every recording artist in the business seems to be searching for a "new sound." Tennessee Ernie Ford's search is via "The Lusty Land," his new Capitol album, in which he's backed by unusual instrument combinations arranged by Jack Fascinato using a small combo with everything from a Celeste to a flute.

... Nineteen-year-old Joe Walker of Houston won out over 3,000 others in the contest to find a young actor for "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal." You saw him last week in the show as "Tim Watson." Orson Welles, who's been doing great with his magician-&-Shakespeare routines at the Riviera in Las Vegas, set himself up for that CBS Spectacular with Betty Grable. Orson's his own agent and, we might add his own best press agent.

EARL WILSON:

Girl with a Face

NEW YORK—Jane Russell has a face!

For many years, most people—especially male people—were unaware of this singular fact. Odes and elegies were written to the beauty of Miss Russell just south of the neck. One day a few years after "The Outlaw" had finally been released, it was discovered that Miss Russell also had legs.

"Extra—Jane Russell Has Legs!" headlined the Manchester Guardian.

But a face, too! It took me to find this out. Sitting in her dressing room when she was on Perry Como's TV show, I beheld a lean, Hepburnish quality—either Audrey or Katherine. And it was strange that this should come out in her face because the two Hepburns put together would never have filled one Jane Russell sweater.

"How much weight did you lose?" I asked Mrs. Waterfield. "Ten pounds," she shrugged. "Don't you think you're much prettier now?"

"I don't know. I haven't looked lately." Jane was always a gal who couldn't care less about her physical attraction.

"I trust you didn't lose anything in your most celebrated section?"

"I don't know. I don't run around with a tape measure like you do, Earl!" she shot back. "What do you weigh now?"

"One-thirty-five." Still disinterested, she added, "Faces tend to get thinner or fatter as you go along. Mine gets thinner. I recently looked at some pictures of myself at the time of 'The Outlaw.' I was all baby fat

I had a very round face which had no contour or anything. "When you get thinner, you see the contours and the bone structure. With Hepburn, the skinnier she gets the better she looks."

So may I be the first to salute Jane Russell—the Beauty? Jane becomes a more surprising girl each year. "First there was 'The Hollywood Christian Group' and now she's heading 'WAIF'—the World Adoption International Fund. She'd been up at 6—after arriving from Hollywood at 2—to go to the airport and greet 5 adoptees from Greece.

THE WEEK-END WINDUP... "DON'T PRINT THAT!" A forthcoming H'wood divorce settlement has the wife accepting the hi-fi set and the husband getting the TV set. But they'll battle bitterly for the silverware. ... A famed personality whose life story was filmed complained, "The picture is lousy—it's a drag."

The Fontaine Sisters stomped out of Chicago disk jockey Marty Faye's show when he said they all needed tonsilectomies. ... Harvey Fischman, one of the original Quiz Kids, is now a program coordinator on Robt. Q. Lewis' Tver...

Commediante Pat Carroll's expecting... Sarah Vaughan's billed in Las Vegas as "The Princess of Walls"... "Fanny" has grossed 5 millions in a year and a half... Big news: Disk jockey Milton Q. Ford dropped his Q. Nat "King" Cole's being offered dramatic movie roles, minus singing.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Israel May Get Nike

WASHINGTON—The Joint Chiefs of Staff favor selling the powerful Nike anti-aircraft missile to Israel.

Final decision on this is up to the State Department.

The "surface-to-air" Nike is a purely defensive weapon, that is employed from fixed positions in the vicinity of population centers and other important military targets. Israel is seeking these anti-aircraft missiles to counter the several hundred Russian jet fighters and bombers recently obtained by Egypt and the other Arab countries.

The State Department has given no indication what will be done about this request.

As in the case of the $50,000,000 of jet planes, tanks and other arms which Israel proposed buying more than three months ago, the Nike matter is "still under consideration."

Significantly, a U.S. State Department official has privately cited the strictly defensive nature of the Nike as compared to the offensive capabilities of the other weapons.

Another new factor is Jordan's ouster of General Glubb and other British commanders from the Arab Legion. This ominous development is viewed in both the State and Defense Departments as seriously impairing the precarious military balance in the explosive Middle East.

The Joint Chiefs expressed their approval in reply to a State Department inquiry.

The military leaders stated the U. S. has an ample supply of Nikes to permit the sale of "several hundred" to Israel, and recommended that be done. This is in accord with the Joint Chiefs' earlier approval of the list of jet planes and tanks which Israel wants to buy.

Nike is the top U. S. anti-aircraft missile. Several hundred "batteries," under the Continental Air Defense Command, safeguard major American cities, plants and other key sites, and new Nike units are being added. This steady expansion includes the NATO allies, which are also being supplied with these powerful anti-aircraft missiles.

BOOBY-TRAP—House Republican leaders are set to wage a last-ditch battle against that investigation the Democrats slipped through the Senate of the politics-loaded question of "presidential inability" and the "succession to that office."

That's the belligerent notice the GOP chiefs have served on the House Democrats. Outcome of this bitter partisan class is conjectural.

The Senate approved the Democratic probe several weeks before President Eisenhower announced his second term decision. The proposal, sponsored by Senator Theodore Green (D-R.I.), chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, sets up a joint Senate-House committee to "make a full and complete study of all matters connected with the election, succession, and duties of the president and Vice President, from the time of nomination, election, inauguration and term of office."

During the brief Senate discussion, nothing was said about President Eisenhower and his health. But later, Senate Republican Leader William Knowland told House Republicans, "This reeks of politics."

"I'll say it does," exclaimed Representative Joe Martin, Mass. "How did it get through the Senate?"

Spacecraft Convention Scheduled for April 28-29

YUCCA VALLEY — The Third Annual Spacecraft Convention will be held at Giant Rock Airport, near here, on April 28 and 29. It was announced this week by G. W. Van Tassel of Yucca Valley.

Giant Rock Airport is operated by Van Tassel and is located 17 miles north of Yucca on Twenty Nine Palms highway. According to Van Tassel, around 10,000 persons are expected to attend the convention concerning the controversial subject of the Spacecraft in the Earth's atmosphere. The Army Air Force authorities have denied that spacecraft speeds through our orbit, but Van Tassel said that this has been proven by the sighting of such craft across the world.

The recent books by Major Donald E. Keyhoe and Captain Edward Ruppelt, who headed the Air Force investigation, have presented authentic proof that the spacecrafts are intelligently controlled, and are not from the earth, he added. Those attending the convention will be entertained over the public address system on Saturday night. Also included will be the playing of tape recordings, reportedly of actual voices and code from the space people.

New pictures will be on display and efforts are being made to obtain some of the color motion pictures of the actual ships. Van Tassel, who has operated Giant Rock Airport for the past eight years, is the author of two books, "I Rode a Flying Saucer," and, "Into This World and Out Again."

The public is invited to attend; admission is free.

Board Accepts Resignation of New Teacher

CATHEDRAL CITY — A new teacher at the local school, who was hired by the board of Education on February 14, resigned yesterday and the board accepted her resignation Thursday.

Evelyn Lageson, formerly of the Long Beach school district, was hired last month to teach at the local school, developed a case of asthma and resigned her job. Her resignation became effective immediately.

The Sun on the Desert

Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce president Hal Kapp has been working hard the past few days, and yesterday his labors were rewarded when the official protest of telephone service was mailed to the Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco.

Co-signers of the protest included Orville Zappe for the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, Chet Madison of Rancho Mirage Chamber of Commerce, and Jimmy Cooper for the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

The formal protest, filed with the commission, will allow the PUC to hold a hearing as soon as possible, and in this way gain one more victory in favor of the communities of the Desert Empire. According to Hal Kapp, the fact that the telephone companies want to hold a hearing in May is "something to worry about, for at that time of year most of the winter residents are leaving."

Regardless of the action taken by the Commission, with the formal protest in the hands of the PUC, they can take official action as they see fit with the telephone companies.

RANCHO MIRAGE Incorporation has again hit the spotlight, with the premature filing of petitions. On attempting to file the petitions, proponents of incorporation found that the California Legislature has changed the laws, and that it would first be necessary to file an intention to circulate petitions.

JACKIE COCHRAN ODLUM, candidate for the 29th Congressional district, is honored at a dinner in Desert Hot Springs Thursday night by the Republican Women's Club. The dinner was held at Addington's Steak House and Mrs. Odlum displayed her new book "The Stars at Noon," a story of her flying experiences. Pictured with her is Mrs. Jane Smith, Desert Hot Springs, whose husband directs the Jimmy Durante Show. (Larson Photo)

Monday morning Attorney William Shaw filed the intention with the Board of Supervisors, and this week the proponents are resigning the petitions which are expected to be presented to the supervisors next Monday.

Last year the supervisors turned down the petition for incorporation, claiming that Rancho Mirage did not have more than 500 residents.

In the reasons for incorporation, proponents claim that growth of Rancho Mirage will be enhanced, and the community will have a larger voice in the general welfare of the desert, being able to establish a police and fire department and work on confirming the zoning of the desert which is one of the foremost programs of the area.

It seems that whenever Attorney William Shaw is hired to do a job, people start out thinking he is "fighting for a cement mill or some other injurious thing for the desert," but when I talked with him yesterday, he assured me that the only thing he intends to do is be the legal counsel for the proponents of the incorporation.

CATHEDRAL CITY may learn a lot from the action that is being taken by Rancho Mirage, and just about have its mind made up on the action she intends to take late this year.

Having fought and discussed the subject for some months they dropped the subject.

Right now Cathedral City is going through the election of new directors to the Chamber of Commerce and investigating the possible changing of street names on the lettered streets. This last project was approved by a ballot vote of local residents, but the new names picked were too hard to pronounce, so new names are being sought. They should have an answer by the April meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Scout Troop 59 to Hold Annual Roll Call Monday

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Boy Scout Troop 59 will hold its annual roll call next Monday, March 12, at Desert Hot Springs Elementary School.

All boys expecting to continue in Scouting or Exploring after April 30 must report in person, or send a message to the Scoutmaster, at the time of this roll call. The registration fee of $1.50 for membership and insurance need not be paid at this time.

A similar Cub roll call will be held next Wednesday.

A uniform inspection has been scheduled for March 26, in connection with the monthly board of review. Neighborhood Commissioner Willard B. Hanson will review the entire troop and Explorer crew.

100 Hollywood Teen-Agers, Parents to Spend Easter Vacation in DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — More than 100 teen-agers and their parents from Hollywood Presbyterian Church will spend a four-day vacation here during Easter week, as a result of arrangements made by the Ray Beals family, new managers of Bubbling Wells Motel.

The group will enjoy swimming in the Bubbling Wells pool, volleyball, archery, ping-pong, hiking and outdoor movies and will witness a showing of an unusual collection of slides of desert wildflowers, made by Fannie Rothman of Yucca Valley.

Efforts are being made to arrange a campfire sing-along, in cooperation with local church youth groups. Beals termed the event "an attempt to divert beach lovers to the superior climate of the desert.

"Through diverting large groups and introducing them to the magnitude and many grandeur of the desert," Beals said, "much can be accomplished in increasing year-round business and recreational activity for the community."

He added that "the success of this event it is hoped, will be only the beginning of bringing many other large groups to Desert Hot Springs."

Pelton Exhibit Set March 14-28 at Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — Coachella Valley residents and visitors have been invited to attend an exhibition of art by Agnes Pelton at the Palm Desert Art Gallery in the Desert Magazine Pueblo, Highway 111.

There is no admission charge to the gallery which is open seven days a week from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. throughout the winter season. Miss Pelton's works will be on display from March 14 through March 28. Art Gallery director Harriet Day said.

Miss Pelton has studied and painted in many places throughout the world, including a year in Italy, a summer in the mountains of Syria and a winter in the Hawaiian Islands. Whether working directly from nature, in imagination through color.

Since coming West in 1931, she has tried to express in her paintings the atmosphere and the life and spirit of the desert country.

Area Building Totals $25,704

CATHEDRAL CITY — Building permits for the past week reached a total of $25,704 with O. W. Paulsen of Cathedral City, taking out a permit for a dwelling and garage valued at $8,120.

Other permits issued included: Margaret Andreas, Cathedral City, garage, $560; Grant Newlin, Cathedral City, dwelling and carport, $5580; Walter Bovee, Thousand Palms, carport, $624; Marjory Vigeland, Rancho Mirage, swimming pool, $4000; Laurin Filardo, Thousand Palms, dwelling, $3840 and Robert Sing, Cathedral City, swimming pool, $3000.

Scouting may contact Scoutmaster W. S. Mentzer, Palm Springs 5410, or Assistant Scoutmaster Russell, DHS 4-2733, or Principal Joe Kanaya at DHS School.

When newspapermen from the big cities come to town they seldom see or feel the rays of our wonderful Winter desert sun. When they do, it is usually from behind deeply colored sun-glasses for no reason at all — except to shield the reddened whites of their eyes from those who may be a bit curious.

However (they do see the beautifully and ornate back bars with the long array of various liquids contained in bottles with alluring messages which read: blended, eight years old, or that it is all straight and direct from Kentucky).

Later, after the shock of their visit and back behind a desk in some smog filled city, they are inspired about what they saw, heard and experienced.

And the content in most cases is a conjured story containing fable, or irritation with something or somebody they encountered here while in a staggering haze listening to some naive individual engorged with the idea of talking to a reporter.

SOMEDAY SOME newspaper publisher will send a staff member to Palm Springs, a member in good standing with an organization called AA's and who loves people — there are a lot of these by the way. Not AA's of course. And he or she will write the real story of Palm Springs. It has been done of course, but here and there a barb of some sort was inserted to kill all the good in the rest of the yarn.

Right now and during the past two weeks there have been a number of newspapermen in our fair city, publishers and reporters. Today I received a call from Bill Best, Los Angeles manager of the United Press, and Ron Wagner, Pacific Coast news chief for the same organization. In addition, I had a delightful visit with Ken Todd, publisher of the Rockford Morning Star and the Rockford Register-Republic in Rockford, Illinois.

Ed Durling, columnist, doesn't know what he's talking about when he stated "that there isn't a bartender that knows how to mix more than ten drinks. Mike Stimac at Howard Manor exploded with "There isn't a bartender in town who doesn't know how to mix less than 20 drinks. And you can tell that to Durling!"

I JUST FINISHED talking to Greg Bautzer, an attorney who could very well have filled the shoes of any matinee idol had he chosen the theater. He is very close to the theater anyway, representing some of the most famous stars in Hollywood.

Greg is one guy with whom I have fought, and loved the fighting while it was in progress. We've called each other unkind names but all in great affection on both sides, I know. He just finished telling me that when the plans for the re-incarnation of the Desert Inn are approved in New York City — "and not before you will get a copy of them to run in your Desert Sun."

But most important of all, he confirmed as much as he could in light of the statement above "if and when the plans are approved" that what I reported in a previous column was tentatively correct.

The shops will run back to an extension of Belardo road — with the mountains. But remember this — Greg said the plans have to be approved first. But as a refresher, the wreckers are scheduled to take over and level all of the buildings on Palm Canyon Drive on or about May 1.

RAN SMACK DAB into Lily Pons on Palm Canyon Drive looking younger than ever and just as beautiful. She stood still long enough for a kiss and then on questioning recited that she had a very busy Winter season. "I'm resting up a bit," she added.

Leo Carillo strolled into the Starlite Room last night and he was surrounded but enjoyed the show just the same. About the toughest job in that Room is the one "enjoyed" by Charley Nasco and another job that is nothing else than a headache is the one filled by Albert, maitre d' at the Racquet Club. A raise, Charley!

And, believe me, there are plenty of hams in this town but if you really want to ham up the scenery and enjoy it at the same time I know a place where you should go.

Father Leissler, pastor of St. Louis Church, is offering his umpteenth ham dinner, Thursday, March 15. And if you have ever eaten ham before you Hams, this is one time you'll really enjoy the

Multiple Listing Over $3 Million, Group is Told

Multiple Listing Division of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board has compiled an outstanding record in the short time it has been in operation, chairman Mike Jekyll told the group at its first dinner dance at the Ranch Club.

More than $3 million in small property listings have been compiled with the Multiple Listing Group Jekyll said.

The meeting was opened by Terry Ray, president of the Real Estate Board, who introduced visitors and guests.

Featured speaker was F. Herbert Lakey, past president of the California Real Estate Association.

Members of the entertainment committee were: Theresa Press, chairman; Frances Wilson, Mildred Jackson, Frank Gaudiello, Jules DeVorzon, Marion Matthews and Esther Hammond.

A capacity crowd was in attendance at the first social affair of the group.

delicacy. It's cheap too for a complete dinner. Make a reservation or try at least. It's for the church and a great guy by the name of Father Leissler.

Zanville's is going greater than ever. More and more Villagers are finding out about the delicious food served there. The place is jammed, before and after the closing hours in town.

Believe me.

Catholic Church on Reservation Offers Fiesta

The Indian Reservation Catholic Church, Arenas Road and El Segundo, will offer a streamlined fiesta on Laetare Sunday, tomorrow, from 7:45 a. m. to early afternoon.

In keeping with the Laetare Sunday spirit of mid-lent rejoicing, food will be served and a special cultural attraction will be the Gordon Courts, R. A. Art Exhibit.

Coffee, doughnuts, home-made tamales, home-made cakes and menudo will be available, as well as soft drinks and ice cream.

Proceeds from the sale of the paintings will benefit the Indian Reservation Church. The late Gordon Courts was a member of the Royal Academy, and the sale of his paintings as an offering to the church is the contribution of his daughter, Mrs. Jean Courts Anguiano, and her husband, Mele.

Mrs. Jules DeVorzon Accompanies Sister

Mrs. Jules DeVorzon is in Philadelphia with her sisters, Mrs. Rose Gladstone of Beverly Hills, who underwent a successful operation there for a serious heart ailment.

They expect to be there for about four weeks, while Mrs. Gladstone is recuperating.

MARRIAGE VOWS were exchanged yesterday at St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church by Mrs. Cecile Liszt of Santa Barbara and James H. Adamson of Palm Springs. (Posesil photo)

J. H. Adamson Wed Friday to Santa Barbara

In an informal ceremony at St. Paul's Friday morning, Mrs. Cecile Liszt of Santa Barbara, became the bride of James H. Adamson of 352 Pablo Drive. Rev. William Blonden officiated at the wedding.

A retired contractor from New York City, who came here from Laguna about three years ago, Adamson is the father of Harold Adamson, who wrote "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer." Harold is now in New York at work on "Strip for Action" which opens at the Winter Garden in April.

Wedding attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Hasler, who hosted a wedding banquet afterwards at their home at Palm Desert.

The Adamsons will honeymoon in LaJolla and then return here until June.

Desert Ride

The next meeting of the Desert Riders will be held Tuesday, March 13, at twelve noon. They will ride to Andreas Canyon where Jack Boyer will serve a special brunch. Please make reservations by calling the P. S. Answering Service, 2701, not later than Monday.

Plan Brunch on Laetare Sunday

Mrs. Mercia Gabriel is chairman of the light brunch to be served at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church grounds Sunday morning after the 8 and 10:30 masses.

Original paintings by Gordon Coutts, R.A., will be on display and offered for sale. These are paintings of local desert and Mexican scenes. L. V. Britt, in charge of entertainment, announced that Johnny Boyle will be on hand to give the occasion a festive air. This is the fourth Sunday of Lent and is called Laetare (rejoice) Sunday. It is the final note of gaiety before entering the last solemn days of repentance before Easter.

Assisting Mrs. Gabriel with arrangements are Anna Gonzales, and Miss Mary Eisenhart. Jeanne Coutts Anguiano and husband, Mele Anguiano are in charge of the display and sale of the art.

Style Show at Oasis March 17

Resort clothes, casuals to cocktail wear, will be modeled in a style show luncheon to be staged at Oasis Hotel on St. Patrick's Day.

Featured will be originals from Andree of California, the French couturier now located in the Plaza. These include many hand-blocked fabrics by D. D. and Leslie Tillet, the man and wife team, who are well known in the East and in Mexico City.

The show will also present some men's wear, casuals in both silks and cottons, including some unusual hand-blocked shirts. Of especial interest is a pattern with a Palm Springs motif, which comes both in men's shirts and in women's wear.

Miss Jane DeVivier, fashion coordinator for Andree of California, will be in charge of the models and will commentate the show, which will start at 1:30 p.m.

Luncheon reservations should be made through the Hotel.

Chicagoans Host Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Schragger of Chicago, who are spending a month at El Mirador, were hosts at a Wednesday night cocktail and dinner party in El Mirador Room.

Their guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Jerry Robinson, Maurice Goldblatt, A. Epstein, Milton Altheimer, Saul Hoffman, Morton Cohen, Arthur Horwitz, Mrs. Rosemond Seiden and Jack Goldberg.

Honeymoon Here

Honeymooning in Palm Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mandell of Boston and Brookline, Massachusetts. Motoring through the country their itinerary has taken them through the Eastern states from New York to Florida and across country to California. They will visit Los Angeles and San Francisco before returning East. The Mandells who are guests at La Sesta will be here for several weeks before continuing their jaunt.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Starbird of Los Angeles, have been vacationing at the Desert Inn. Starbird is the developer of La Mirador Estates in the San Fernando Valley.

Mothers Club to Hold Annual Card Party

The date of the annual St. Patrick's card party was set Wednesday afternoon, when the Mothers Club of St. Theresa held its regular meeting with Tani Boyle presiding. The card party will be March 19 at the Biltmore hotel.

A potluck dinner was arranged for the second Thursday of the month with square dancing following. Regular classes for square dancing will begin on March 12 with Cliff Campbell teaching and calling. These will be held twice monthly at the parish hall.

At the close of the meeting the St. Theresa's basketball team was introduced with cheerleaders demonstrating the spirit that won them the trophy at the Riverside tournament. Captain of the team, Barbara Reeh, gave a report of the tournament and a round of cheers was given the Mother's club for sponsoring the team and furnishing uniforms for the girls.

Refreshments and a social hour followed.

Have Guests from the East

Don and Lynn Wexler spent several days this week in Las Vegas where they flew to meet Don's brother, and wife, Vernon and Lois Wexler of Minneapolis, Minnesota. They returned to Palm Springs, accompanied by the Eastern visitors, who will be their houseguests for some time.

Recently Mrs. Wexler's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Maidman, arrived in Palm Springs from their home in Nyack, New York for a week's vacation. They are guests at the Desert Inn and are being entertained at the Wexler home. Mr. Maidman is the owner of the Hotel Beverly in New York.

Beaux Arts Ball Set for April 12

Desert Art Center will stage its fifth annual Beaux Arts Ball at the Tennis Club on the evening of April 12, it was announced today. Mrs. Claude Yerkes will be general chairman of the lavish costume ball.

Theme of this year's Beaux Arts Ball will be International Night, with costumes from every country. As in previous years, there will be prizes for the best costumes.

There will be dinner dancing and a program of entertainment which will have Charles Irwin, the noted and beloved character actor, as master of ceremonies.

Formation of plans and committees is currently under way and will be announced soon.

Dottie Higgins and Ora Windhurst have been vacationing in San Diego and Mexico this week.

Diane Cody Has Slumber Party

Mr. and Mrs. William Cody honored their daughter, Diane, 12, at a dinner and slumber party Saturday evening. The young ladies met at the Cody home at 1950 Desert Palms Drive at 5:30 p.m. and were taken to Thunderbird Country Club for dinner. Following dinner, the girls were taken to the Cody home where they played games and then prepared for an "overnight" in the beautiful Cody home.

Present for the affair were: Diane's sister, Lynn, Julie Ann Dunne, Karen Anderson, Laura Jean Pratt, Kitty and Colleen Kieley, Connie Workman, Debra Coonan, Linda La France, Lynn Coffman, and Nonny Scully.

Frank Luse of 275 Tamarisk Road, and Beverly Hills, returned to Palm Springs on Thursday. Mr. Luse, an interior decorator, is scheduled to begin work on the home of Mrs. Irene Timblin, 790 Mission Road.

Feeding of 5,000 to be Basis of Sermon Sunday

"What Kind of a King is Jesus?" will be the subject of Sunday's sermon at Our Savior's Lutheran Church at the American Legion hall. The story of Jesus' feeding the five thousand forms the basis for the meditation.

The fifth in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held on Wednesday, March 14. The meditation for that evening is entitled: "He was despised and rejected of men."

A voters' meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. at the pastor's study. This is an important meeting as building plans for the future will be discussed.

Pastor Hass will begin serving the Twenty-nine Palms Lutheran congregation on Sunday, March 11. Pastor Tensmeyer of Banning has served the group for the past several years. Since he has left Banning to become the Lutheran pastor in West Covina, the Twenty-nine Palms group has asked Pastor Hass to serve them. Services are conducted every Sunday evening. Pastor Hass also will make a week-day trip to carry on church activities.

Truly Integrated Man is Subject of Sermon Topic

Dr. Irma Glen, minister of the Church of Religious Science of Palm Springs, will speak Sunday morning on "The Truly Integrated Man" at services held in the El Paseo Theater, 810 North Palm Canyon. Dr. Glen's 11 o'clock lecture will be preceded by organ selections at 10:45.

At 8 p.m. Thursday midweek services will be held in the Women's Club, Cahulla Road at Baristo. Dr. Glen's subject for the evening will be "The Pure in Heart."

Plans are underway for a Junior Church, and in the meantime children and teenagers are invited to Sunday and Thursday services, as well as all others who are interested in a more "Whole Life."

A love offering is given at each service by those who wish to do so, but no charge is made. Group healing prayers and meditations are given at all services. Any wishing special requests may drop a note in the basket inside the door for this purpose. Names are never read, but there is power in the prayers of many," according to Dr. Glen.

'Substance' to be Lesson-Sermon

In the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" in all Christian Science churches Sunday, Mary Baker Eddy declares in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God—a spiritual understanding of Him, an unselfed love" (p. 11).

Jesus exemplified this declaration in restoring the lunatic boy whom his disciples were unable to heal. Jesus said, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting" (Matt. 17:20, 21).

Paul says in the Golden Text from Hebrews (11:1), "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

The first tea farm in America was at Summerville, S. C., which is now known as "the flower town among the pines."

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

How to Have Constant Energy

Authorities tell us that the heart is the toughest muscle in the body. We are told that during an average lifetime it produces enough energy to lift a battleship fourteen feet out of the water!

But if you think and say, "as one man did, 'My father had a heart attack when he was forty-six, and here I am, forty-two already—my turn is coming,' or if you read in the newspapers about people who have suffered heart attacks and dwell on such stories—presently you are likely to begin feeling twinges yourself. Your mind will become filled with apprehensive thoughts, and soon you may find your blood pressure up and your heart action too fast. In his book, "Freedom From Fear," Dr. Lester L. Coleman, an authority on psychosomatic medicine, calls this kind of thinking one of the greatest health threats of our time.

And, just as you can think yourself into tiredness and disease, so you can think yourself into energy and health. At the urging of his father, and not without resistance, the son of a friend of mine once took a job for the summer. Each night he came dragging home complaining that he was so tired he couldn't possibly do his usual household chores. One night, the father insisted that the son wash the family car.

"All right, Dad," the boy reluctantly agreed, "but I can hardly push myself to it, I'm so tired."

But a few minutes later a teenage vision of loveliness walked into the driveway, carrying a golf bag. "How about a game of golf?" she asked the supposedly over-worked and weary boy.

He washed that car in nothing flat. Then he played golf till dark, missing his dinner, and went dancing until past midnight. Obviously his tiredness had not been in his muscles; it had been in his thoughts.

We consume too much power telling ourselves how tired we are. Of course there is such a thing as healthy tiredness, when you have worked or played hard all day and can fall into bed with a delicious sense of repose. That's normal tiredness from physical effort. But what really saps the energy is a deep mental fatigue—and there is a tested way to prevent it.

The Bible says, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Then it goes on to describe the new access of energy. "They shall mount up with wings as eagles," but even that isn't the climax of the dynamic passage. For it adds, "They shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

You might think that the text should be inverted: first walk, then run, then fly. But the Bible is wiser than that, for it tells us that the great upthrust of inspiration eventuates in the ability to keep going when the going is hard. To walk and not faint it is necessary to rise up with wings as eagles. Energy for the long hard push comes from the uplift of mind and soul in spiritual inspiration.

Is this subject of constant energy an insignificant one? I think not. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The world belongs to the energetic." Think of this truth as you study men or read history, or as you evaluate yourself. You will find that victory, achievement and ordinary usefulness come most frequently to those who have kept up their energy, often over many long years. Life with power belongs to those who wait upon the Lord, who rise up with wings as eagles, who run and are not weary, who walk and do not faint.

In 1929, an industrial worker had to work 49 minutes to earn the price of a pound of round steak. Today, reports the National Beef Council, he earns the price in 30 minutes.

By Norman Vincent Peale

How to Have Constant Energy

Authorities tell us that the heart is the toughest muscle in the body. We are told that during an average lifetime it produces enough energy to lift a battleship fourteen feet out of the water!

But if you think and say, "as one man did, 'My father had a heart attack when he was forty-six, and here I am, forty-two already—my turn is coming,' or if you read in the newspapers about people who have suffered heart attacks and dwell on such stories—presently you are likely to begin feeling twinges yourself. Your mind will become filled with apprehensive thoughts, and soon you may find your blood pressure up and your heart action too fast. In his book, "Freedom From Fear," Dr. Lester L. Coleman, an authority on psychosomatic medicine, calls this kind of thinking one of the greatest health threats of our time.

And, just as you can think yourself into tiredness and disease, so you can think yourself into energy and health. At the urging of his father, and not without resistance, the son of a friend of mine once took a job for the summer. Each night he came dragging home complaining that he was so tired he couldn't possibly do his usual household chores. One night, the father insisted that the son wash the family car.

"All right, Dad," the boy reluctantly agreed, "but I can hardly push myself to it, I'm so tired."

But a few minutes later a teenage vision of loveliness walked into the driveway, carrying a golf bag. "How about a game of golf?" she asked the supposedly over-worked and weary boy.

He washed that car in nothing flat. Then he played golf till dark, missing his dinner, and went dancing until past midnight. Obviously his tiredness had not been in his muscles; it had been in his thoughts.

We consume too much power telling ourselves how tired we are. Of course there is such a thing as healthy tiredness, when you have worked or played hard all day and can fall into bed with a delicious sense of repose. That's normal tiredness from physical effort. But what really saps the energy is a deep mental fatigue—and there is a tested way to prevent it.

The Bible says, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Then it goes on to describe the new access of energy. "They shall mount up with wings as eagles," but even that isn't the climax of the dynamic passage. For it adds, "They shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

You might think that the text should be inverted: first walk, then run, then fly. But the Bible is wiser than that, for it tells us that the great upthrust of inspiration eventuates in the ability to keep going when the going is hard. To walk and not faint it is necessary to rise up with wings as eagles. Energy for the long hard push comes from the uplift of mind and soul in spiritual inspiration.

Is this subject of constant energy an insignificant one? I think not. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The world belongs to the energetic." Think of this truth as you study men or read history, or as you evaluate yourself. You will find that victory, achievement and ordinary usefulness come most frequently to those who have kept up their energy, often over many long years. Life with power belongs to those who wait upon the Lord, who rise up with wings as eagles, who run and are not weary, who walk and do not faint.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP) — Fearless Fraley's Facts and Figures:

Harry Eisenstadt, a former major league hurler now operating a hardware store in Cleveland, can laugh at his customers when they start bragging about Bob Feller's record 18 strikeouts in one game.

The day Feller set that record, Oct. 2, 1938, Eisenstadt was the Detroit pitcher—who beat Feller, 4 to 1. The answer is that while Feller was striking out 18 men, seven of them were getting very timely hits. And Eisenstadt allowed only four hits to emerge the winner.

CARMEN BASILIO, the welterweight champion from Syracuse, N. Y., who risks his crown against Johnny Saxton at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, rates himself as a great outdoorsman—but he gets seasick whenever he goes deep sea fishing. His forte is trout fishing.

Lost, strayed or delayed: The Durham Bulls of the Carolina League are urgently seeking pitcher Marvin Melanson. Curt Perry of the Durham club, sadly in need of hurlers, says that Marv left his Detroit address without a forwarding address. Come home, Marv, all is forgiven.

CONSERVATION corner: The next time you hear a cricket chirping you probably can confound everybody with your lore as a naturalist by telling them it is a little boy cricket. The lady crickets don't make any noise. But then, what would a lady cricket have to sing about?

With the Masters Golf Tournament coming up, it will give you an idea of what kind of golf Cary Middlecoff had to shoot in winning last year when you consider his composite scores for four rounds over the par 36-36-72 Augusta layout.

HIS COMPOSITE best over the four rounds was a 30-31-61 while his composite worst—and you should be so lucky—was a 39-40-79, which included a double bogey on the 10th hole. He compensated with 17 birdies and an eagle over the four rounds, which may be why the doc may be the first man to win it twice in a row.

Bruins Shooting for New Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pacific Coast Conference champion UCLA Bruins will be shooting for records tonight as the PCC closes out its regular basketball season.

If Willie Naulls and company can continue their domination of cross-town rival Southern California, they will establish an all-time conference record of 16 wins and no defeats. The best previous record was California's 11-0 in 1949.

The Bruins will also increase their new PCC scoring mark of 1251, established last night when they trimmed the Trojans 85-70. The Washington Huskies set the old mark of 1175 in the 1953 season.

Santee Scares Off Opponents

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — America's top Olympic prospects will display their ability tonight in the sixth annual Milwaukee Journal Games, but the runner who might have won the 1,500 meters, Wes Santee, will compete for fun only against virtually no competition.

Santee, defending champion in the Olympic mile with a time of 4:08.6 a year ago, was certain to face only another Quantic Marine representative, Bill Taylor, in one division of the event, unless some post entries sought by meet director Ollie Kuehlic decide to risk their amateur standing and Olympic chances to expand the field.

PADRES START TRAINING NEXT WEEK

First Local Game Slated Next Friday

Kiner To Bring 30 Players Here To Start Grind

The San Diego Padres will start batting and fielding practice at the Polo Grounds on Monday at 10 a.m.

About 30 players and general manager Ralph Kiner, Manager Bob Elliott, coach Jimmy Reese, and trainer Les Cook will take their first steps toward Spring training Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be no admission charge those three days.

Thursday the Padres travel to San Bernardino for the first game of the schedule.

FRIDAY the San Diego lads, adding five more players, will host the Seattle Rainiers at the Polo Grounds for the first of 13 games to be played here until April 8.

The games will start at 1:30 p.m. each day. There will be a general admission charge of $1 for each of the games but two. Those will be free. They are when San Diego hosts the University of Southern California and the Naval Skyraider team.

THE PALM SPRINGS Junior Chamber of Commerce is handling all ticket sales. They have designated four local retail stores as sales points: Sportsman's Center, Beck Brothers, Nelson's Oasis Men's Shop and Ramon Drug.

The tickets will be sold on a bonus basis. Each $5 book contains six tickets.

Box seats may be purchased at the park with a ticket and 50 cents, or $1.50. Reserved seats for the Cleveland Indians game are now on sale at the four stores.

The team was bought last year by Bill Starr's investment group by the San Diego firm, West Gate Tuna Corporation.

THEY HAVE DEVELOPED many fine stars in their 19-year history, including Ted Williams, Gene Deshotel, Bobby Doerr, George Myatt, Vince DiMaggio, Manuel Salvo, Dick Smith and Luke Easter.

Some of the players who will carry the hopes of a Pacific Coast League 1956 pennant are outfielders Bob Usher, Harry Elliott, and Earl Rapp; first baseman Dick Sisler, and pitchers Bob Kerrigan, southpaw, and righthander Ed Erault.

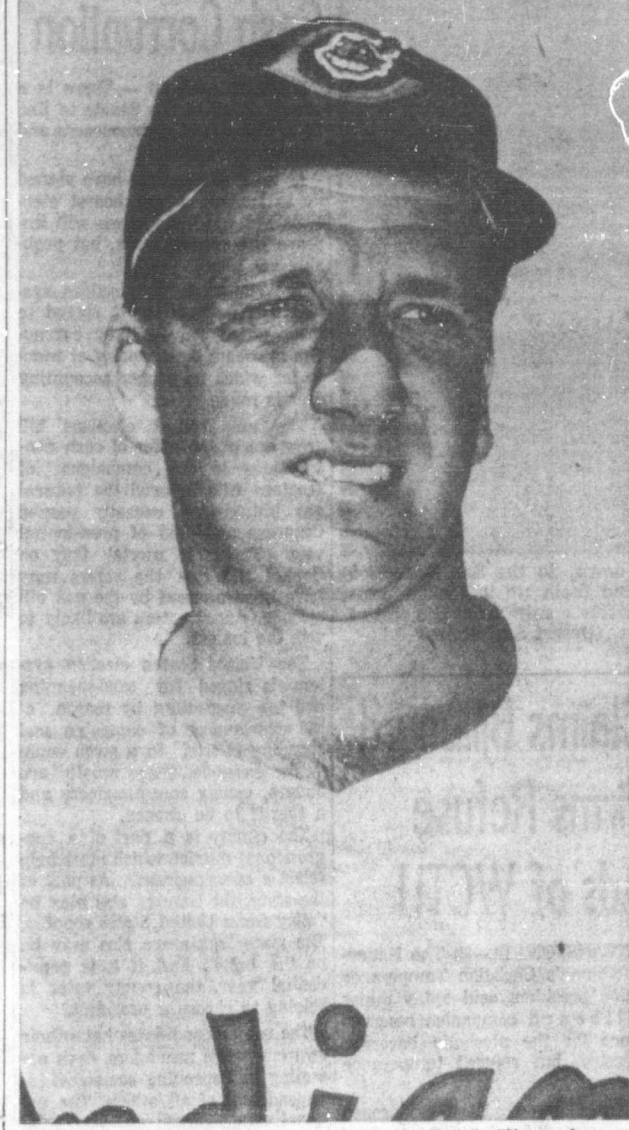

Winner Tied with Bigham in Pensacola Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Veteran Bo Winner of Oklahoma City and George Bigham of Kansas City shared a one-stroke lead over the field today at the halfway mark in the 72-hole $12,500 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

Winner had a 36-hole total of 139, while Bigham had a 139 total. Only a stroke behind the co-leaders is Joe Black of Abilene, Tex., while Ivan Gantz of Indianapolis, Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth, Tex., and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., were next with 141's.

The same totals recorded by Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., Ed Furgol of St. Louis; Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., and Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.

Dick Masterson of Oakmont, Pa. and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., each came up with a six-under-par 66 Friday — the day's best round, but both were far off the pace. Masterson is in a five-way tie for fifth at 143, while Palmer trails by another stroke.

NOW AN EXECUTIVE, not a player, is Ralph Kiner, former National League home-run king seven years running. Kiner, now a Thunderbird Country Club resident-golfer and general manager of the San Diego Padres who will play at the Polo Grounds starting Monday. They have a 13-game spring training schedule.

21st O'Donnell Invitational Gets Under Way Monday

O'Donnell Invitational Golf Tournament which has its 21st renewal next week at the original local course, will attract 270 golfers in three events from Monday through the following Sunday, March 18.

Leading amateurs of the west have accepted bids to play in the championship flight which will climax the event next weekend.

The tournament is divided into three events, as in past years. THE FIRST THREE DAYS will be devoted to the Class A handicap events and this is also divided according to handicaps of the entrants.

Thirty-six holes of medal play will mark this portion of the tournament.

Thursday is the day for the Seniors who will go in 18 holes of medal play. This tourney is also divided into three sections, according to age brackets.

There will be prizes for low gross and low net in each class in both tournaments.

THE MAIN EVENT starts on Friday, March 16 and will be concluded on Sunday.

This is the Championship flight of scratch or low handicap amateurs from all over the west. It will be 54 holes of medal play.

Dr. Frank M. (Bud) Taylor Jr., is defending champion and seeks to make it three O'Donnell Invitational. He first won the event back in 1936 when he was still a dental student at UCLA.

He won it again last year, also winning at Thunderbird this year.

HIS OPPOSITION will come from such well known amateurs and champions in several western tournaments, as Harvey Ward, Johnny Dawson, also former O'Donnell winner, and many other of the west coast's top golfers.

Pairings for the events are under preparation under direction of

Arabs Defeat Indians in All Three Meets

Initial Track Event Proves Disastrous For Local Tribe

As was expected an outmanned Palm Springs track team lost to the potent Coachella Arabs in the first league meet of the season yesterday 17 1/2 to 7 1/2.

Although the Indians were minus their three top varsity spikemen it was evident that the Arabs were altogether a much stronger team. Only seven Indian varsity spikemen placed as the Coachella tracksters completely dominated that division, winning 79-20.

OBE CRAWFORD and Larry Paul took the only two Indian firsts in the varsity division. Crawford won the high jump with a 5'10" elap. Paul tied for first in the pole vault leaping 10' 6".

In the most exciting race of the day, Gilbert Luna of Coachella took the mile in the good time of 4:53.2. Indian trackster Ken Chapin was only one-tenth of a second behind him, however, and definitely turned in the best Palm Springs performance of the day.

THE B'S DID BETTER than either the varsity or the C's losing out to the Arabs 57-38. The C's were completely outmanned getting only 17 1/2 points to their opponents 62 1/2. All of the times were comparatively slow as it was the first meet of the season for most of the spikemen.

Chamber Urges State Funds for Winter Games

The Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce has asked that a $5,000 appropriation of state funds be used to bring the Winter Olympics to Squaw Valley in four years.

According to George Beebe Jr., director of the Chamber, $1,000,000 has already been set aside by the State Legislature to make the northern California-Nevada winter resort the site of the next Winter Olympics.

In a letter sent to that body from the local group, an additional $4,000,000 to be earmarked for promotion and accommodations was asked for on the basis that the resultant activity would liven Palm Springs' trade.

Nations Urged to Ban All Pros

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, Friday warned that all nations should eliminate not only athletes who are not amateur but also those who intend to turn professional after the Olympic games. He deplored the practice "of using the Olympics as a stepping stone to professional careers."

Lightburn Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight contender Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras registered his seventh straight victory Friday night on the most lopsided decision of his career, but Manager Albie Clarke complained today, "He's so good we have no matches in sight."

No More Holdouts

ORLANDO (AP) — The major leagues' last holdout of 1956 capitulated today when outfielder-first baseman Roy Sievers signed with the Washington Senators for an estimated $19,000.

Haddock Will Continue as Games Chief

Not Ousted He Says Quieting Rumors Sweeping Village

What proved to be a tempest in a teapot subsided today with the announcement by Howard Haddock, city recreation director for the past six years that he has not "been fired" and will stay on the job as recreation supervisor.

Rumors had swept the Village Friday that the popular manager of city-wide recreation had been ousted to make way for a new appointee.

CITY MANAGER Robert W. Peterson is expected to make an announcement on the matter to council Monday night.

When the rumor spread protests were formulated but they blew up with Haddock's statement. "I'm for the new program 100 per cent," he told The Sun this morning.

Peterson's announcement Monday is expected to reveal the appointment of John Lewis of Twenty-nine Palms as Park and Recreation director, an office created by city council last Summer.

HADDOCK HAS BEEN in charge of recreation here for the past six years. He will continue in this capacity with Lewis taking over management of the Polo Grounds and parks.

"The city has grown so big that it is no longer a one-man job," Haddock commented today. He will continue to supervise the local sports program—Summer softball leagues, basketball, volleyball, tennis, Little and Pony league activities and all city-wide sports.

Lewis is reported to be an experienced parks man and will probably take over in that capacity next week.

Dan Tobey, Noted Ring Figure, Dies

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — Dan Tobey, a well known ring announcer for two generations, died Friday after a long illness. Tobey was appointed announcer of the American Expeditionary Forces during World War I by the late General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

Easter Seals Go to 33,000,000 U.S. Homes Today

CHICAGO (U)—Today marks the opening of the month-long annual Easter Seal campaign for 1956 throughout the United States.

Dr. Dean W. Roberts, executive director of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults which conducts the appeal, said more than 33 million homes will receive sheets of brightly colored Easter Seals.

Contributions from these seals will bring hope to thousands of crippled children and adults, Roberts said.

Clara Jo Proudfoot, Miami, Fla., a 4-year-old girl born with a crippling condition, will appear on national radio and television programs in New York, Washington and Chicago in behalf of the campaign.

Clara Jo will accompany Gov. Joe Foss of South Dakota, World War II flying ace and this year's Easter Seal chairman, to Washington March 15, Roberts said. There she will present President Eisenhower with the first sheet of Easter Seals.

The oldest National Guard unit in the country is the 182nd Infantry of Massachusetts, organized as the Middlesex Regiment in 1636 to fight the French and Indians.

Bachelor's Right to Burn Savings Bonds is Upheld

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (U)—A wealthy bachelor's will which dictated that $14,000 in government bonds be burned after his death was upheld yesterday by a circuit court jury.

The jury ruled that Frank H. Foote, who left an estate valued at $50,000 when he died Dec. 30, 1954, at the age of 74, was mentally competent when he wrote the document four years earlier.

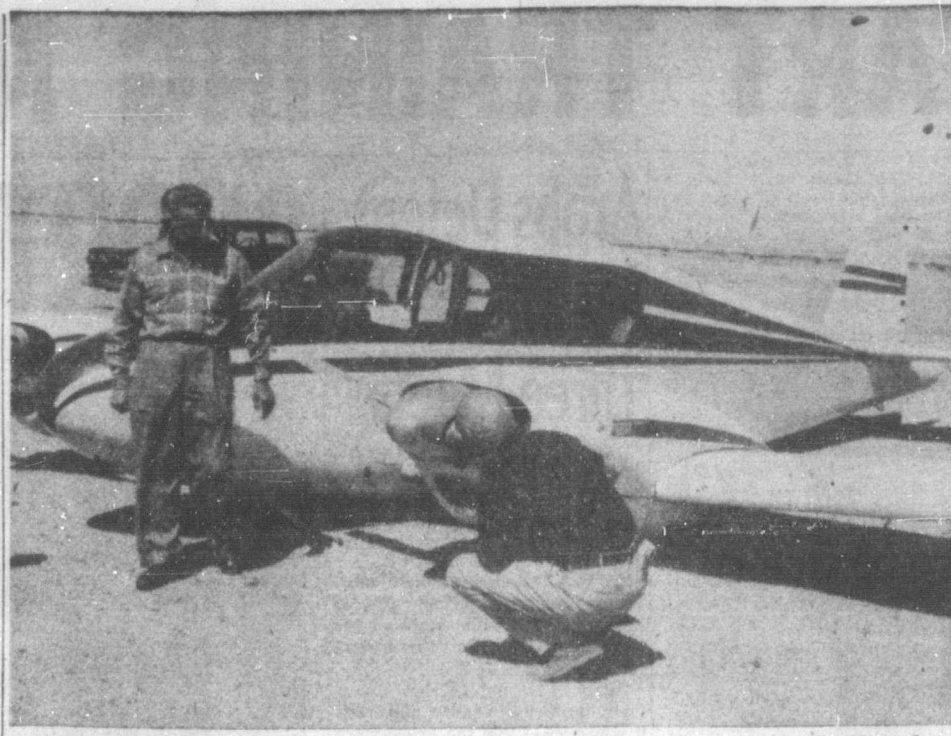

Foote's sister, Mrs. Minnie Gibson, 84, of Meadville, Miss., went to court in an effort to break the will. The document also stipulated that she receive income from $11,000 in industrial securities he held and that the securities were to go to the Red Cross after she died.

Mrs. Gibson contended that her brother was of unsound mind when he made the will and that it was illegal to destroy government bonds.

Britain Stockpiles 297,000 Gallons of Castor Oil

LONDON (U)—The British government has stockpiled 297,000 gallons of castor oil but it will not say why.

Board of Trade President Peter Thorneycroft will say only that the stock is for "strategic considerations which I prefer not to reveal."

BELLY-LANDING at the Palm Springs airport was the result yesterday of F. D. Thomas' calculated-risk decision to land with the wheels up. His landing gear indicators were not working, and he was unable to tell from them if his wheels were down. So the San Francisco businessman pulled them up to locked position and slid in safely a mile from the rest of the parked planes. (Desert Sun Photo)

Woman, not Seen by Firemen, Dies in $120,000 Blaze

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (U)—An elderly woman died and four persons were hospitalized early today in a five-alarm fire that swept through a two-story brick apartment building on Milwaukee's South Side.

The dead woman was Mrs. Grace Thompson, 61, who was found in her first floor apartment. She was identified by a son.

Firemen first thought they had rescued all 24 occupants of the building, all adults, after bringing the flames under control, however, they looked through the badly damaged building, saw what they thought was a fur coat and discovered it was Mrs. Thompson's body.

Fire Chief Ed Wischer estimated damage at $120,000.

Claims Billboard Firms Refuse Ads of WCTU

EVANSTON, Ill. (U)—The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union president said today major billboard companies reserved space for the alcoholic beverage industry, but refused temperance posters.

Mrs. Glenn G. Hays said space was refused for temperance posters by General Outdoor Advertising Co., which operates interstate and other companies in Memphis, Tenn.; Louisville, Ky.; and San Diego, Calif.

She told officers of the WCTU at their annual mid-year meeting that in several cases space on billboards was refused after money was accepted for the temperance posters.

"While the posters have been put up in many parts of the country, some billboard companies are apparently yielding to pressures from the alcoholic beverage industry," Mrs. Hays said.

The Foster and Kleiser Advertising Co. and the Cortez Advertising Co. at San Diego refused temperance posters also, Mrs. Hays said.

One of the posters refused a space shows the skeleton of death over a wrecked automobile, Mrs. Hays said. It carries the legend, "It was only beer, but its companion was death."

Sharks Get Four from Ghost Ship

HONOLULU, Guadalcanal (U)—Survivors of the wrecked "ghost ship" Arakurimoo said today sharks probably claimed the lives of four of the passengers who leaped into the sea when other rescue methods failed.

Thirteen persons made it to shore safely in dinghies from the wrecked vessel and several were left aboard including a 66-year-old man whose body was found in the wreckage. The other six dived into the shark-infested waters and only two made it to the shore.

The Arakurimoo was termed a "ghost ship" when its wreckage was found on a Guadalcanal beach with no trace of its passengers. It had been missing for several weeks in a hurricane.

Foresees Cities Built in Space by Joining Rockets

CHICAGO (U)—A rocket expert took a long look into the future last night and envisioned a city in the sky built on a space station big enough to house complete families.

"Imagine the view they would have from their living room windows," said Darrell C. Romick of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp.

Rocket bodies could be joined together to make a station several hundred feet long, Romick said. He estimated that 40 months would be needed to construct such a station, starting with a single rocket ferry serving as temporary living quarters.

As more rockets are added to the station, Romick said a larger shell would be built to "expand living and working space."

Earth-like living conditions would be attained by fashioning a wheel to rotate around the satellite, the scientist explained.

"The wheel would develop a synthetic gravity effect, thereby providing safe, comfortable living accommodations," he said. "At this stage, families of workers should be permitted to join them."

U.S. Elections Setup Invites Cash Corruption

WASHINGTON (U)—There is a stampede on in the Senate to line up on the side of righteousness and against corruption.

At least 62 senators have signed up to support a new honest elections bill which doubtless will improve the system some, but probably not much.

The United States elections system was unintentionally rigged to favor corruption — if by corruption is meant the spending of money for which no proper accounting ever is made.

The new honest elections bill grew out of the offer of cash contributions to the campaigns of senators who favored the natural gas bill, which recently passed Congress and died of presidential veto. There is mortal fear on Capitol Hill that the voters may have been aroused by the gas bill episode. Angry voters are likely to vote the ins out.

The United States election system is rigged for over-spending and tax accounting by reason of the overlapping of campaign and spending efforts. In a given county for example, there usually are Judges, county commissioners and a sheriff to be chosen.

The county is a part of a congressional district which must help select a congressman. As part of the state, the county also may be voting for a United States senator. The state legislature also may be on the ballot. And if it is presidential year, the county voter is helping to choose a president.

The major candidates have their own campaign managers, each operating and spending somewhat independently of all others. The national congressional and senatorial campaign committees have funds for independent spending.

No single individual or committee in either party is responsible for all money raising or spending. That is the fact upon which previous honest elections bills have floundered.

The British have a simpler elections system. There are no side-show diversions to the election of members of Parliament. The British Representatives of the People Acts passed in 1948 and 1949 are effective.

A candidate must not treat a voter to a campaign beer or cigar. A candidate would be disqualified if he had advanced a loan to a voter within six months prior to an election.

Your neighbor may take his family to the polls in his car, but he may not offer you a lift. A candidate may register for taking persons to the polling place, one for each 2,500 city voters or one for each 1,500 rural voters. If a registered car breaks down on polling day, it may not be replaced.

Each candidate has a responsible agent who may be punished if the election rules are broken. The agent usually is a skilled accountant and a graduate of an elections campaign school.

The agent is personally responsible for assuring that the candidate spends no more than $280 of his own funds.

The agent may spend roughly between $1,600 and $1,800, depending on the constituency — and that is all.

The British enforce all of this, too.

WHO SAID "WINDS BLOW"

BACK IN 1936-37 the boys used to say "Oh, Charley, that Smoke Tree Ranch will never amount to anything. It's too far out and the winds blow over there." They had to swallow their words when lots I sold for $1950 in 1937 sell for $16,500 now.
You could have owned an acre.

HERE'S A better spot back out of the wind, where there was no damage in the last big sand storm. Acre lot 150x308 at $1875. Water, utilities in.

ACREAGE is running out in the Palm Springs High School District, with prices from $1500 to $3000 acre. Check for yourself. Here's land, 20 to 430 acres, part of distinctive Hidden Springs Ranch being sold wholesale, at below market value, profit left to the buyer, double your money in 5 years. City utilities, public utility water, natural gas, 15 cent toll to Palm Springs. Good Desert TV here.

Drive out Ramon Road, cross Freeway 99, three miles and see this little know paradise of 1500 acres now just coming into its own. Your broker or Mr. Doyle, owner. Hidden Springs Ranch, 1000 Palms. Phone 611.

Democrats Threaten New Rigid Farm Support Drive

By UNITED PRESS
Democrats today threatened to make a last-ditch drive next week to restore rigid farm price supports.

The Democrats were encouraged to make the try Friday night when only Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking vote blocked approval of rigid supports for millable wheat.

Administration forces Thursday night knocked rigid 90 per cent supports on four other basic crops out of the omnibus farm bill.

But Democrats saw in Friday night's 46-45 vote a chance to try again.

Other congressional news:

SCHOOLS: Southern congressmen sought more signatures for their resolution pledging support of school segregation by "any lawful measures." Some southern congressmen were reported balking at signing the strongly-worded resolution. But its sponsors hope to have 100 signatures when they release it.

LOBBYING: Both Democrats and Republicans called on Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) to assume command of the stalled Senate lobby investigation. Members of both parties believed that with McClellan as chairman the political dispute blocking the inquiry by the now bi-partisan committee would be resolved.

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee, said he doesn't want the job.

PLANE PROFITS: House investigators called on the Navy and Air Force to justify permitting military plane manufacturers to charge the government for company bonuses and advertising.

A House armed services subcommittee is investigating military plane profits.

TRADE: The Senate investigating subcommittee planned to summon Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson regarding East-West trade. So far the subcommittee has been unable to get details of a U.S. agreement in 1954 assenting to Western nations shipping strategic goods to the Soviet bloc.

Several subcommittee members said they will fight new foreign aid unless the information is released.

SECRECY: Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said several leading scientists agree that government-enforced "extreme secrecy" has delayed important technological developments. Moss is chairman of a House government operations subcommittee investigating federal restrictions on scientific information.

City Protests Skylark Hotel's Beer Application

The Simon-Louis Corporation, owners of the Skylark hotel, at 1466 North Palm Canyon Drive, yesterday received one legal reverse and forecast of another in the near future when a petition before the variance board was denied, and two city officials protested their application before the Alcohol Beverage Control to sell beer at the hotel.

Representing the corporation at the ABC hearing yesterday at city offices before hearing officer David Dunsworth, George Simon said he wanted to sell beer to the guests of his hotel, adding that they would be the sole patrons.

CITY ATTORNEY Jerry Bunker and city planning director Hy Ranes protested the application on three counts.

1. There are presently an excessive amount of licenses in operation in the Village.

2. A traffic hazard would be caused by the extra business since the hotel fronts on Palm Canyon Drive, a high-speed thoroughfare.

3. Use as a beer-selling establishment would place the hotel in an improper zone; more parking would be required than there is room for expansion of present facilities.

BUNKER SAID the case would be weighed, and judging from past cases, the decision will be handed down within a month. He added that a request of another bar recently had been denied on the same grounds.

A request for a variance to the corporation was denied later in the day when the board agreed there was no reason for a sign bearing the name of the hotel to be placed on the south side of the structure.

The request was made on the grounds that traffic traveling north on Palm Canyon Drive could not see the name of the hotel till passing it.

Missing Wife's Husband Found

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The husband of missing Mrs. Evelyn Scott, 63, wealthy clubwoman, maintained today he knew nothing about her disappearance nine months ago, but said he suspected she "may be somewhere in the East."

The husband, L. Ewing Scott, 59, came forth yesterday to deny he also was missing. Scott first consulted with his attorney, then told District Attorney S. Ernest Roll all he knew about the strange disappearance of his wife.

Mrs. Scott's disappearance was made public last Tuesday when her brother, E. Raymond Thorsby, filed a Superior Court petition seeking guardianship of her $250,000 estate. The action made it clear the estate had not been tampered with and was invested or on deposit in banks.

Scott denied he had been missing, even though police and the District Attorney's office had not been able to locate him for the past few days.

Scott described his wife as "a very peculiar woman" who had disappeared several times before.

REAL ESTATE SCHOOL To Start in Palm Springs on March 14

The famous Real Estate Course of the Skadron College of Business of San Bernardino will start in Palm Springs on Wednesday, March 14, at 8 p.m. for the first time.

This is the same thorough, popular course already offered thirty times in San Bernardino with over 1,000 satisfied graduates.

ONLY NINE LESSONS

The first session is free and everyone interested is invited to attend without obligation. The class will meet at the American Legion Hall, 400 North Belardo Road, in Palm Springs, one night a week on Wednesdays for nine weeks.

In addition to successfully preparing students for the State Examination for salesman or broker, the training is extremely valuable to property owners, builders or managers. Many job opportunities are constantly available in this profitable profession.

FOUR INSTRUCTORS

Four highly experienced instructors cover all phases of Real Estate. Graduates are highly successful in passing the State Exams. A reasonable tuition fee covers all instruction and text material condensed to provide the most training in the shortest time.

FREE SESSION

All men and women interested in Real Estate are invited to attend the first session on Wednesday, March 14, at 8 p.m. WITHOUT COST OR OBLIGATION, at the American Legion Hall, Palm Springs.

Cardinal Objects, NBC Cancels TV Program on Birth of Poisoning 7

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The NBC television network has cancelled Monday's scheduled "Medic" program showing the birth of a baby by Caesarean section.

It was reported that the network had received a letter from Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, pointing out that the program might be objectionable.

The network said the cancelled half-hour show would be replaced by a re-run of one of last year's programs. The cancellation will cost NBC $35,000, it was reported.

The Caesarean birth of TV's "Medic," an actual operation filmed recently in a local hospital, was to have been the first time the birth of a baby would be shown in either TV or movies. It was uncensored from start to finish.

Hollywood reporters who attended a preview of the show described it as "a shocker," but fascinating.

Blood Bank's Need Stressed

Stressing the importance of the Blood Bank service to Desert Hospital, Administrator Robert Henwood today urged that the quota of 25 pints be reached Monday when the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county Blood Bank visits here.

It is a service which is invaluable, not only in time of accidents but in daily occurrence of emergencies, Henwood said.

"These emergencies might occur in your family, to you, or among your friends," he continued. "At that the blood will be available to you without charge for the plasma, if you have donated blood."

By donating blood, he said, persons or groups establish their own private Blood Bank which may be drawn on for any designated person.

Reservation for giving blood Monday between the hours of 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. may be made by calling the hospital, 2251.

Boyd Designates March 11-17 as Realtor Week

Mayor Florian Boyd yesterday designated March 11-17 Realtor Week in Palm Springs in conjunction with the state-wide realty week proclaimed by Governor Goodwin Knight, and national realty week.

In a proclamation later presented to Terry Ray, president of the local real estate board, Boyd emphasized the importance of the realtor in city functions.

He said the real estate board has contributed significantly to the growth of Palm Springs, and that the members of the board have dedicated themselves to the responsibilities of growth.

He cited their tenacity to a slum-clearance and "Build America Better" program as one of the many continually pushed.

He concluded by congratulating local realtors on their work to date.

Ike Joins Fight to Put GOP in Congress Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower laid his personal prestige on the line today in the 1956 battle for control of Congress.

He placed it first behind Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, who filed Friday as a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination in Oregon. The Oregon GOP nominee faces Sen. Wayne L. Morse (D-Ore.) next November.

Morse — a former Republican who became an Independent, and then a Democrat — is the No. 1 target of the GOP in the senatorial campaigns this year.

Mr. Eisenhower, who conferred with McKay Thursday, also was understood to be trying to persuade GOP Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington to challenge Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) in November. Langlie was reported to have been an unannounced White House caller early this week.

Washington and Oregon are two of the five states in which the GOP has its greatest hopes of unseating Democrats to regain control of the Senate, now divided 48 Democrats to 47 Republicans. The others are New York, Kentucky,

$90 Thefts Reported at Airport Property

Theft of lumber and four flood lights valued at $90 from the airport property where they were wrecking a city-owned building, was reported to police by W. E. Carter of Massey Rock and Sand Co., North Palm Springs.

Police Discourage Fire-Building Hiker

Police checked out a fire at the entrance to Tahquitz Canyon at 1:02 a.m., today, later located the hiker who had built it and advised him to "keep hiking—out of the county."
